Supporting and empowering people with developmental disabilities to live, learn, work and play in the community

Today we're going to see a special doctor who helps children understand how they learn and play.

First, we will walk into the building and check-in at the desk.

Then we will wait in the chairs in the waiting room.

When it's my turn, the nurse will call my name,
and we will go with her.

The nurse will take me into an exam room where I will wait for the doctor.

When the doctor comes in, I will go with them to another room while my parents wait for me.

This might feel scary, but the doctor will keep me safe, and I'll be back to my parents soon!

The doctor will take me to another room where we will play with toys.

The doctor and I will also talk, read a book and do other activities.

After I finish my activities with the doctor, I will go back and see my parents. I did a great job playing with the doctor!
